CITY OF COIMBRA

Coimbra is a Portuguese city and the capital of the Coimbra District, located in the Central region of Portugal. With a population of around 140,000 inhabitants in the municipality, Coimbra is one of the country's main urban centres and has a strong connection to sport, largely supported by the presence of the University of Coimbra and its historic student sports association, Associação Académica de Coimbra.

Coimbra has a wide range of sports facilities, including the Estádio Municipal Cidade de Coimbra, with a capacity of almost 30,000 spectators, the Pavilhão Municipal Multidesportos Mário Mexia, and the Centro Olímpico de Piscinas Municipais. The latter includes a 50-metre Olympic swimming pool with 10 lanes, specifically designed for training and high-level national and international competitions.

Coimbra has made significant investments in sports infrastructure, particularly around the Euro 2004 legacy. The city's sports facilities include swimming pools, athletics facilities, indoor sports venues, football and rugby fields, as well as dedicated facilities for gymnastics and water sports. The municipality currently manages a broad network of sports facilities, which are used both for community sports and high-level training and competition.

The Centro Olímpico de Piscinas Municipais is particularly relevant for aquatic sports, offering facilities for competitive swimming and other disciplines, while the Piscinas Municipais Rui Abreu are also equipped for swimming, adapted swimming, synchronised swimming and water polo.

COMPETITION VENUE – COIMBRA MUNICIPAL OLYMPIC SWIMMING CENTER

The Centro Olímpico de Piscinas Municipais de Coimbra is one of the main aquatic sports facilities in the city, offering high-quality conditions for swimming, training and competition. The complex provides a professional environment for athletes, coaches and clubs, supporting both regular training activities and national and international sporting events.

The facility features a 50-metre Olympic swimming pool with 10 lanes, providing excellent conditions for swimming training and competitive events. The complex also includes a 25-metre teaching pool, supporting different levels of aquatic practice and training. Complementary facilities include changing rooms, spectator areas and other support spaces, ensuring the necessary conditions for athletes, teams and event organisers.

The Centro Olímpico de Piscinas Municipais de Coimbra is particularly suited to competitive swimming and high-performance aquatic activities. Its Olympic-size pool, supporting infrastructure and capacity to accommodate athletes and spectators make it an important venue for the development of swimming in Coimbra and a suitable facility for high-level training camps, competitions and sporting events.
